In addition to the Insurance Company paying the agent a commission for Insurance products, the FMO may provide additional marketing dollars to cover the advertising cost of the educational seminars conducted by TBIA. Marketing dollars are provided without preference to any Insurance Company. FMOs may also have conferences for Insurance agents based on production levels. These events (which involve travel, lodging, entertainment, and meals) may be paid for by the FMO and is a conflict of interest.

Toro Bravo always acts in the best interests of the client, including in the sale of commissionable products to advisory clients.
